

COMMODITY SECTION 3

GENERAL MERCHANDISE GROUP

The general merchandise group includes five business classifications. The stores in this group sell such merchandise as dry goods, apparel and accessories, furniture and home furnishings, smallwares, hardware, and often food. Mail-order houses in the general merchandise field are included in this group under the classification of department stores.* Descriptions of the kinds of business in this group appear on page 912 of the appendix.

The following table lists the kinds of business in the general merchandise group and shows the size of the commodity samples:

KIND OF BUSINESS	DOLLAR SALES			NUMBER OF STORES
	All stores (add 000)	Stores reporting commodity data (add 000)	Per- cent cover- age	All stores	Stores report- ing com- modity data	Per- cent cover- age
Department stores*.....	$3,974,998	$2,770,582	69.7	4,074	1,465	36.0
Dry goods stores.....	229,286	96,390	42.0	15,628	1,545	9.9
General merchandise with food.....	112,108	59,729	53.3	2,737	756	27.6
General merchandise— other.....	371,814	223,002	60.0	10,882	4,418	40.6
Variety stores.....	976,801	715,013	73.2	16,946	8,254	48.7

*Mail-order houses which sell apparently the same kinds of merchandise as department stores are classified as department stores because they are not sufficiently numerous to be shown separately without revealing, in most cities and States, the individual figures of readily recognizable companies. They are shown separately on a national basis in the Retail Census report on Types of Operation (vol. I, pt. 1). Retail department stores of mail-order houses are classified, of course, as department stores.

The commodity blocks used by these several kinds of business in the general merchandise group for reporting their commodity analyses are reproduced on pages 918, 921, and 922 of the appendix.

Department stores, including general merchandise mail-order houses, used block 35 of Form 21. Dry goods stores, general merchandise stores with food, and other general merchandise stores reported in block 17 of Form 21. Variety stores used block 6 of Form 20, block 17 of Form 21, or block 35 of Form 21.

Form 20 was used by variety stores with annual sales of less than $20,000, while the figures for stores with $20,000 or more annual sales and all chain-store units regardless of size, are from Form 21. Stores with sales of $100,000 or more were requested to report in block 35, Form 21; those with less than $100,000 in block 17. These instructions were not always followed, some stores (particularly chains) with sales below $100,000 reporting in block 35. Therefore, commodity data for variety stores reporting in block 35 have been consolidated with the data reported in block 17 and presented as an analysis of stores with annual sales of $20,000 or more. The information from block 35 is shown also in separate supplementary tables.

For full explanation of the method of presenting commodity data and description of the tables shown, see text beginning on page 1.

APPAREL GROUP

The apparel group includes 16 business classifications, of which all except "other women's accessories stores" and "other apparel stores" are analyzed by commodity sales. However, data for two of these kinds of business, men's-boys' furnishings stores and men's-boys' hat stores, have been consolidated and shown as men's-boys' furnishings, hat stores. The stores in the apparel group sell primarily clothing, shoes, hats, underwear, and related articles for personal wear and adornment. The principal classification are men's stores, family stores, women's apparel stores, and shoe stores. Descriptions of the kinds of business in this group appear on page 913 of the appendix.

The table lists the kinds of business in the apparel group and shows the size of the commodity samples.

Commodity blocks were provided for stores in the apparel group on Form 21 only; thus the commodity data do not reflect the smaller stores with sales of less than $20,000 which reported on Form 20. Three blocks, which are reproduced in the appendix, page 921, were applicable to stores in the apparel group. Block 19 was used by men's-boys' furnishings and hat stores, by men's-boys' clothing stores, family clothing stores, women's ready-to-wear stores, corset and lingerie shops, furriers and fur shops, millinery stores, hosiery shops, and infants' wear shops. Block 20 was used by the three kinds of shoe stores and block 21 by custom tailors. Some of the items on the schedule, when not applicable to particular kinds of business, are combined with "other sales" in the following tables for those kinds of business. On the other hand, a break-down of "other sales" was available in a supplementary block (block 36, p. 922) from which the information on receipts from repairs and other services was obtained.

For full explanation of the method of presenting commodity data and description of the tables shown, see text page 1.
